I've noticed since the last few updates that sometimes pro guides tell me to leave the highway just to tell me to go back to the highway again. The sound has a problem with many street names that have to spell names instead of speech. I want to see a button on the main map that allows me to quickly change route options, such as avoiding toll roads, rather than having to go through a lot of menus to do this. I like the advice professionally, properly telling the lane to stay in to make the right path. This so-called GPS is the worst thing ever! In fact, it's the opposite of GPS. When someone enters the destination, expect the program to take them there in a quick and straightforward way. Expect the direction for the turn, exit, etc. will be unclear, and in plenty of time for the driver to take appropriate action. My experience with this trash piece shows that whoever wrote the app doesn't take into account the above. The turn is announced after it is too late to move into the right lane, causing you to miss the turn and need to change the course. The path is the most ambiguous. This morning I certainly followed the instructions and ended up going in the wrong direction on the freeway outside !!! I could be killed because of !!!, then when I navigate to somewhere I quite knew where to go near the end of the direction path, taking me in the opposite direction that I had to go. Don't waste your time and money with this app. I wish I had most GPS devices have improved the sound problem a lot, the smart maps are very new, but back then. I see that I have to turn it on. What Dr. But what I hear is what the doctor Need a lot of improvements to speed up the new - it's been improved now, I hear. What Dee Are also, I see gas stations on the map, but what about restaurants and hotels and shops and schools etc. It's also good to set up notifications and don't have to set up every time I use the app. I don't need to hear it. I'm over the limit. Speed I don't need to say there's a gas station nearby. It would be nice to close them and not need to close every time I use the app. Mireo developers state that the app's privacy practices may include managing the data as described below.
